With views of a Californian beach, this roof terrace designed by architect Steven Ehrlich was the perfect place for a fireplace. The fire is multi-fuel, burning either gas or logs. For advice on multi-fuel fireplaces, contact Flamewave Fires.

Looking like an indoor sitting room, this outdoor space is sheltered and intimate. The fireplace has a sculpture by Isamu Noguchi alongside and a steel panel by John Duss over the mantel. Photograph from 'Classic Chic' by Suzanne Trocmé (Jacqui Small, £30)

Landscape designer Patricia Benner created an outdoor room by pitching a marquee alongside a concrete-and-steel fireplace for a modernist house in the Hollywood Hills.
